

AUNTSFIELD

HERITAGE 2005

P I N O T N O I R

This wine is only produced in exceptional years when a selection of wine exhibits amazingly defined character.

The resulting Pinot Noir is a pure expression of vineyard character. The aromatics are heady with complex fruit and earthy character. They seem to both tantalize and seduce until the wine is tasted and the journey continues. The palate shows layers of silky texture, dark fruit and savoury flavors that reveal, evolve, express and continue. An expression of place for us all to enjoy.

Tasting Notes

Colour: Deep ruby/crimson, very intense.

Aroma: Black Doris plum, dark cherry, dried spices and Christmas cake with tobacco & cigar box notes. Dry forest floor, with underlying dark chocolate, coffee, vanilla and rich smoky oak.

Palate: Big rich fruit dominated by dark berry fruit, cherry and ripe spiced plums. A rich palate showing great complexity with interwoven spices, fruit and savoury flavours. The wine has a long rich finish with silky, ripe tannins and unbelievable length.

Chemistry: Alc 14.5% pH 3.67 TA 5.8

Presentation

Each bottle of wine is individually numbered and available beautifully presented either in a wooden presentation box or six pack.

Auntsfield Estate of Marlborough originally established in 1873, recently resumed production. The new wines have gained swift recognition and high regard for their richness of fruit, purity and sense of place. Auntsfield is guided by family ownership with a passion to revive the proud history and again make wines of distinction.
